Play Is Third In Significant American Group

LIFE WITH FATHER, by Howard Lindsay and Russel Crouse, will be presented by the Western Players in Van Meter auditorium, April 7, at 8:15.

LIFE WITH FATHER, is the third in a series presented by the Western Players. It is adopted from the biography of Clarence Day which was a best seller and book-of-the-month selection. The Broadway productions were so popular, that Lindsay and Crouse have written a sequel, LIFE WITH MOTHER, which was tried out in Detroit and moved to New York, where it is still playing.

The plot deals with Father, (Bob Spiller), who in 1880 rules his household. The plot also revolves around Vinnie's (Martha Crady) desire to see her husband baptized. The play is a domestic comedy portraying home life as it was lived in the 1880's.

Father and Vinnie have four red headed sons, Clarence, Jr. (Thomas W. White), John (Joe Kimbrough), Whitney (Bill Dolan), and Harlan (Gary Roberts). These boys do anything on stage from playing tidly-winks, to making medicine for their mother.

Father constantly frightens the maids away, which results in the changing of maids in the acts. Play-

Italian Deputy Explains Regime

Italy will not fall into the clutches of Communism, because the inherent Italian love of political freedom and her recent progress under right-wing leadership has made Italy one of the world's democracies. Dr. Paola Treves, member of the Italian Chamber of Deputies, told a chapel audience Wednesday, March 16.

Speaking on the subject, "Italian Political Parties and their Recent Developments," Dr. Treves cited the fact that in April's elections the Democrats now hold an absolute majority in both the Chamber of Deputies and the Senate, whereas the Italian Reds cling only to a feeble minority.

The lecturer, sponsored by the Institute of International Education, declared "I do not think there is the slightest danger of Italy's going Communist, either in regard to domestic issues or, above all, in international affairs."

He explained the statement that Italy is at the same time an old and a new country. She is old in tradition and history, but new in her emergence from 20 years of Fascism as a democracy. This democracy is only four years old, yet that time has seen a tremendous growth within Italy. Dr. Treves said:

"Progress during the past four years of democracy has been amazing. Almost 90 per cent of the Italian industrial plant was destroyed by the war. Today it is 101 per cent of what it was before the war."

"Italians have accepted not only material construction after being nearly destroyed by 20 years of Fascism, but also have undertaken the difficult job of moral and political reconstruction."

"I do not say that everything in Italy is settled, but I can say one thing: Italy is, has been, and will

Shotgun Blast Is Fatal To Brown

William Carlisle Brown, a 21 year old Western senior, died on March 13, at the Greenville hospital following "self inflicted" gun wounds suffered at his home at Ennis in Muhlenberg county.

Members of Mr. Brown's family, who discovered the tragedy shortly after it occurred, said they knew of no reason why he should want to take his life.

Bill served in the U. S. Navy Medical Corps for two years during World War II. A biology major, he entered Western in January, 1948. A student of high scholastic standing, he was one of the best liked students on the campus. He had been accepted by the University of Louisville medical school to begin his studies there next fall.

Funeral services were held at the Forest Grove Baptist church in Muhlenberg county on Tuesday, March 15. Several Western students attended. He was retiring president of the Biology club.

Haru Matsui Gives Address

A ray of hope has come to a long darkened Japan through the democratic influence of the United States, Haru Matsui, Japanese intellectual, said at assembly Tuesday morning, March 22.

Japan of former days was like a sick person who needed an operation, the Westernized daughter of an Imperial university professor said. Three years of American occupation has seen the land of the Nippon recuperated as a land of freedom. The emperor is now but a figurehead, and the people are turning to Christianity.

"I am grateful," she stated, "for what the United States has done in brightening the outlook of the Japanese. My people have seen the great light of liberty and freedom."

During the war the speaker took an active part against military Japan as a worker with the OWI and War Department propaganda agencies. She expressed regret that so much waste, suffering, and loss of life had been caused by her nation. The post-war change in Japan was evident when she said:

"Today we are eager to join hands with nations everywhere to create a happier and more peaceful world. I hope that my people can march with other free peoples of the world on the highway of freedom."

A graduate of George Washington university, the speaker stressed the importance of education in bringing about this reformation. American-trained teachers and a program of building new schools and libraries were listed as vital needs.

She attacked old Japanese social customs, especially those discriminating against women. Segregation of boys and girls in school was the chief reason for her coming to America. She was glad to escape a land where wives are picked by parents for hus-

Herald Accorded National Honor

Top honors were received by the HERALD, official newspaper of Western, in the annual contest conducted by the Columbia Scholastic Press Association, the CSPSA has announced.

Under consideration in the 25th annual contest were school and college newspaper publications of the entire United States.

The only college newspaper in Kentucky to be awarded honors, the HERALD took first place in the division, "printed newspapers of teachers colleges."

Contest winners in various classifications were ranked medalist, first place, second place, third place, and fourth place. The CSPSA explained that first place is the top award. Medalist honors go to those papers exceeding first place requirements.

The award marked the seventh time that the HERALD has received high honors in contests conducted by the CSPSA and the Scholastic Press association of the University of Minnesota. The HERALD is a member of the CSPSA, the Associated Collegiate Press, the National Editorial Association, and the Kentucky Press Association.

Published under the general management of Kelly Thompson, assistant to the president, the HERALD has as its reporter staff members of the journalism classes taught by Miss Frances Richards. The paper is printed by the PARK CITY DAILY NEWS in Bowling Green.

Pre-Medical Students Granted Scholarships

Scholarship grants from the University of Louisville school of medicine have been received by two pre-medical seniors at Western.

Wendell Hurt, Scottsville, has been granted a University Rural Medicine scholarship which will provide free tuition amounting to about $600. This scholarship is granted largely upon scholastic qualifications.

Mr. Hurt and Robert Clary, Russellville, will receive loan benefits from the Kentucky Rural Scholarship fund. The benefits are based upon $2,000 contributed to the fund by Dr. G. Y. Graves, local physician, in honor of his father, an Allen county native.

OLDHAM NAMED ALL-AMERICAN BY 'LOOK'

John Oldham, floor general of the hardwood, was chosen as a member of LOOK's All-America Basketball District team for the National Collegiate Athletic Association's Third district. The selection, which was made by 200 of the leading basketball writers in the country, was announced in the issue of LOOK which was released Tuesday, March 15.

Along with Oldham, Paul Walther of Tennessee, and Alex Groza, Wallace Jones, and Ralph Beard of Kentucky rounded out the quintet. This marks the last year that John will play for a Western team. The Toppers lose this valuable ball-hawk in graduation. He has never possessed the quitting spirit in a game and keeps aggression in his heart. Oldham received a well earned honor. His type of play will always be remembered by Topper fans and his schoolmates will remember his friendly smile and warm greeting.

'Can Do' Is Slogan Of Junior Class President

One Hilltopper who needs no introduction to most Western students is Omer (Gos) Gosnell, a junior from Glasgow and Pekin, Illinois, whose theory is that making friends is one of the best things anybody can do.

Omer, an agriculture major, is president of the Junior class and art editor of the 1948-49 TALISMAN. He holds membership in the Cherry country life and French clubs and is a member of the BSU. Having worked in the college cafeteria since he first entered Western, he nevertheless finds time to make furniture, play the piano by ear, and paint pictures (also by ear) for every cause and occasion. We also hear that Gos had his fling at dramatics. It seems he stole the show as the forlorn husband of THE FAR-OFF HILLS, given in 1945 by the Western Players under the direction of Dr. J. Reid Sterrett. In the language of Proctor and Gamble you might say Gos "does everything!"

Although Omer has never been to art school, his work as an artist deserves blue ribbons. Some of his paintings are on display in the library, and many of the posters seen on the campus and in certain club meetings are courtesies of "Gos." His greatest ambition is to be a commercial artist, providing, he says, his lagging finances perk up to art school standards. He is now planning to illustrate Carolyn Boyd's book, PUDGY THE PUP. Having traveled in every state but six, Omer has painted scenes from each, including a water color of Mt. Rushmore memorial, where are carved the heads of several Americans.

Omer likes swimming, ping-pong and tennis. He is "reserving checkers for old age." He also likes bacon and eggs (for dinner), and "Blondie." If he has time to read the comics, as for the ideal girl, Omer insists he has none. Still firmly asserting himself a Republican, he added, "Always on the losing side!"

Book Marks

The library staff and the Ragland library club will hold open house on Saturday morning, March 26 for senior boys and girls of this area who want to know more about the library profession. Opportunities in the college, public, high school, and elementary school fields will be presented in a panel discussion by library staff members and by students.

The meeting will open at 9:45 a. m. in the teaching materials room on the third floor of the library building. Following the social hour and the program, a tour of the library will be conducted. An opportunity to visit the Kentucky building library and museum will be provided in the afternoon.

The program was suggested by the committee on "library work as a career" of the Kentucky Library association. Miss Sara Tyler, head of the periodical room, is chairman of this association.

The library has an excellent collection of books on Japan. In addition to the books we already had, a donation of nearly a hundred books collected by Miss Magnolia Scoville and her sixth grade class in the training school a few years ago increased the library's resources. Since the war other worthwhile books have been added.

Some of the recent books are listed below:

Bryas, GOVERNMENT BY ASSASSINATION, 1942; Upton Close, BEHIND THE FACE OF JAPAN, 1942; Grew, TEN YEARS IN JAPAN, 1942; Haring, JAPAN'S PROSPECT, 1946; Trewartha, JAPAN, A PHYSICAL, CULTURAL, AND REGIONAL GEOGRAPHY, 1945; Brumbaugh, CHRIST FOR ALL JAPAN, 1945; Price, KEY TO JAPAN, 1946; Latourette, A SHORT HISTORY OF THE FAR EAST, 1947; Latourette, THE UNQUENCHABLE LIGHT, 1941; Lattimore, SOLUTION IN ASIA, 1945; and Isaacs, NO PEACE FOR ASIA, 1947.

Students Give Vocal Concert

Mary Catron, lyric coloratura, and Steely Veech, tenor, with Brooks Morton at the piano, were presented by Radio Station WKOT in popular concert on Thursday evening, March 17, in Van Meter auditorium.

The program opened with a duet by Miss Catron and Mr. Veech, "Brindisi" (Drinking Song) from LA TRAVIATA, Verdi, and continued with "Le Reve" from MANON, Massenet, and "Serenade" from PAGLIACI, Leoncavallo, sung by Mr. Veech; and the aria, "Où va la jeune Indoue", Indian Bell Song from Lakme, Delibes, a solo by Miss Catron. Following was a scene from Puccini's LABOHEME, a duet by Miss Catron and Mr. Veech.

Part II of the concert included Miss Catron's singing of "A Spring Morning", Carey; "Voices of Spring", Strauss; "A Legend", Tchaikovsky; and "Russian Nightingale" by Alabi-eff. Mr. Veech then sang "The Star", Rogers; "Into the Night", Edwards; and "Come to the Fair", Martin.

"Will you Remember" from MAY-TIME, Romberg, was sung by Miss Catron and Mr. Veech before intermission, and afterwards they continued with "Thine Alone" from EILEEN, Herbert. Mr. Veech continued with "Smilin' Thru", Penn; "Serenade" from STUDENT PRINCE Romberg; "I've Told Every Little Star", from MUSIC IN THE AIR, Kern; and "One Alone" from DESERT SONG, Romberg.

Miss Catron sang her second series of solos, including "Estrellita" (Little Star), Ponce; "One Night of Love", Kahn, which she dedicated to the memory of Grace Moore; "Italian Street Song" from NAUGHTY MARIETTA, Herbert; and "I Dream Too Much", Kern.

After several encores, Miss Catron and Mr. Veech sang "My Hero" from CHOCOLATE SOLDIER, Oscar Strauss; and "Indian Love Call" from ROSE MARIE, Primi.

Miss Catron and Mr. Veech, with Brooks Morton, accompanist, may be heard over WKOT each Saturday.

Alumni Flashes

By

RAYMOND C. HORNBACK

Route 3, Louisville, Ky.

Dear Mr. Hornback,

At Uncle Billy Craig's suggestion I am sending along a bit of personal news that might be of some use and interest for the alumni column. Not having kept your office informed of any particular events in my life since leaving school at Western, I'll recount some of the episodes that have been of importance to me.

After graduation in 1941, I entered Vanderbilt university school of medicine, obtaining my MD degree there in 1944. For the next two years I was on the house staff of the University of Virginia hospital in the department of surgery, being fortunate enough to obtain an appointment as junior assistant resident following my internship. The work was rather pressing at that time, staffs being short in numbers and there was little time even to see much of this lovely surrounding country and state. However, along with professional duties, it was not difficult to notice a young nurse anesthetist who came to the hospital the same week that I did, a lovely young woman whom I shall mention in more detail later. Having kept a commission in the medical corps of the army, I went to Westover field, Massachusetts, where the job of chief of surgery of the Station hospital became my lot. A few months later, orders for an assignment in the Azores came, and for eighteen months, I stayed on that wind and rain-swept rock, with time out for a couple of trips to the European and African continents, and finally returned to the States. Fortunately, they took me back at my old job and since, July 1948, I've been here as senior assistant resident surgeon. Of course, I shouldn't have omitted the mention that I took on another pleasant job as a husband about the same time I married Ruby Jane Riedinger, the girl I mentioned before. She gave anesthesia for my first surgery in 1944 and continues to be my favorite anesthetist and is frequently referred to as the "girl we'd most like to be anesthetized by!" We live at University gardens, an apartment project for ex-service people just in the edge of Charlottesville.

As to plans for the future, I shall spend next year in surgical pathology and in research. Part of the time will be spent in teaching in the medical school and the nursing school, as has part of my time so far here on the house staff. That part of my job has been entirely enjoyable. Perhaps the urge to teach is "in the blood" of anyone who has been at Western. Certainly, I've found it one of the best ways to learn a subject. Some of the questions these students can ask!

A word about my wife, Ruby Jane. She's a native of South Dakota and graduated from St. Luke's Nursing School in Bismark, North Dakota and from St. Mary's school of anesthesia in Duluth, Minnesota. Our first post graduate jobs seemed to come at just the right time and place. As things go as we hope, we plan to return to Kentucky, particularly to Bowling Green, to establish a home and a practice. Here we see Westerners very rarely and look forward to a permanent return home and to the re-establishment of friendships that began and thrived under the influence of our school.

Sincerely yours,

Richard F. Grise

Youth Plays Role In Next Production

Gary Roberts

A play does not often require the part of a ten year old boy, but such is the case of the youngest son of the Day family, Harlan, in the next Western Players' production, LIFE WITH FATHER.

After scouting over the community in search of a young actor, Mr. Russell H. Miller, director of LIFE WITH FATHER, decided upon ten year old Gary Roberts, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hobson Roberts, 305 Sumpter Avenue. Gary is in the fifth grade at the Rural training school, where Miss Mae Wilson is his teacher.

Playing the role of Harlan in LIFE WITH FATHER is Gary's second appearance on the stage, his first being in the Bowling Green Players' Guild production of GRANDMOTHER NICK, which was given in the "Playshop" and directed by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Clark.

Besides being a junior member of the Players' Guild, Gary is a Cub scout. He has been taking violin lessons for two years and is now playing in the College high school orchestra.

Gary's hobby is pets, including a squirrel named "Friski", a black cocker spaniel, "Bobo", and horses, which are his favorite. Gary won three ribbons for good horsemanship while riding his horse "Dixie" in the Western Kentucky horse show.

The play "Moonshine," by Arthur Hopkins, was played in Munfordville by two members of the Western Players, March 18.

Boychoir Gives Evening Concert

The Columbus Boychoir of Columbus, Ohio, under the direction of Mr. Herbert Huffman, presented an evening concert for the season's third Community Concert on March 12.

The Boychoir school, one of the most progressive musical and character-building institutions in the country, provides 110 boys of grammar school age with complete grammar school academic education; at the same time the school develops a choral group which appears from coast to coast. The interdenominational school charges no tuition; basic requirements of all students are voice quality, musical aptitude, and character excellence. Thirty boys are selected annually from hundreds of recommendations.

Mr. Huffman, director of the Boychoir and a graduate of Westminster Choir, founded the school and with the support of several Columbus organizations opened the institution in 1940. Since then he has directed the choir in regular cast to coast tours and broadcasts over the national networks.

The concert, which opened with "Confitemini Domino," was continued with "Jesu dulcis memoria," T. L. Vittoria; "Ascendit Deus," Jacob Handl; and "Pae ut ardeat cor neum," Pergolesi. A rendition of "The Echo" by Orlando di Lasso was given, along with "Fine, Fine My Heart" by Thomas Morley and Orlando Gibbons "The Silver Sword."

An entertaining part of the program was the comic opera "Bastien and Bastienne" by Mozart. The one-act opera featured three Boychoir soloists, two of whom sang the title roles. Dressed in the costumes of 18th century lads and lassies, the choir danced the minuet and sang.

After intermission the Boychoir sang Schubert's "Ave Maria," a Missouri folk song, "The Deaf Old

Phil Wilken Receives Graduate Assistantship

Phil Wilken, BS, August '48, has received a teaching assistantship in chemistry at Northwestern university. He will begin teaching in September of this year.

For the past year, Mr. Wilken has been doing research work for Dr. Ward Sumpter, of the chemistry department, in the field of polarographic studies of organic compounds. Mr. Wilken's wife is the former Jane Huston from Anchorage. She will be graduated from Western in June.

His first two years at Western Mr.

Woman; "The Swan" by Camille Saint-Saens, and selections from Peter Tchaikovsky's "Nutcracker Suite."

Mr. Herbert's Boychoir returned for six encores, including Boogie Woogie Piggy, "Lavendar Blue," and "Shortenin' Bread." They concluded the program with the Lord's Prayer.

Wilken was a member of the band. In his junior year he had a research paper published in the JOURNAL OF THE AMERICAN CHEMICAL SOCIETY.

Mr. Wilken, whose home is in Louisville, is a graduate of Louisville du Pont Manual training high school. He entered Western in September, 1940, and attended school here for the next two years. He then went to the Army Signal Corps. He was stationed at various Pacific posts. After spending three and one-half years in the Army, he returned to Western and finished his work toward a degree.

Barter Players Appear In 'Arms And The Man'

Led by the renowned actor and director, Owen Phillips, the Barter Players of Virginia presented George Bernard Shaw's light comedy, ARMS AND THE MAN, last Wednesday night in Van Meter auditorium.

The title of the production, ARMS AND THE MAN was taken from Virgil and is the key to the theme of the play, why men fight.

BILL RUSSELL AND TOMMY WHITE

By June Baxter

To think of Tommy White without Bill Russell is about as hard as to think about ham without eggs, Abbott without Costello, Burns without Allen, Muft without Jeff, Amos without Andy, or Lum without Abner. Bill is usually straight man in the act giving Tommy his cues, but frequently getting in his own punch lines.

For the benefit of the few benighted and unbewildered individuals who have not met Bill and Tommy, the couple in question are both seniors on the Hill and both from approximately the same place near the outer rim of the Bluegras. In fact, getting their definite place of abode is a little difficult to determine as Tommy lives at Hillsboro, near Willisburg, went to school at Mackville, gets his mail at Springfield, and spends most of his time in Lebanon. The attraction at Lebanon seems to be the assistant cashier of the Marion county bank, the sight of whom sets the sound of wedding bells tinkling in Tommy's ears.

Bill is from Rose Hill which he declares is not a cemetery, and he gets his mail at Mackville.

He seems to like red hair and is constantly irritated by Potter hall's office girl's saying "I'm sorry, you have the wrong number. This is Potter hall not Cherry hall."

They were friends all during high school, graduated together, and then were separated for four years while Tommy went to Hawaii with the Army Signal Corps and Bill took a 32-month tour with the Navy Amphibs. The first time he had ever been beyond the Kentucky state line he went to Canada, Ireland, England, France, Belgium, Holland, Germany, and Norway. While in England he met Lady Astor and Lady Cavendish who are two of the most interesting people he has ever met.

After returning from the service, Bill decided to come to college. One quarter of staying at home while Bill came to college was all Tommy could stand, so he packed up and came too. For the past three years they have roomed together and have taken all classes together if possible. Tommy is an English major, minor-ing in art and history, while Bill is a geography major with minors in art and English.

Their extra curricular activities on the Hill run to dramatics. Tommy was the other soldier in DEAR RUTH, the groom with the lost collarbutton in A WEDDING HAS BEEN ARRANGED, a brother of Joan and the stage manager in that Bill plans the decorations, and he just paints where and what Bill says paint.

Tommy's interests run to fishing, swimming, boating, tennis, and especially horseback riding, as he has the typical Bluegrass man's love of horses. Bill says he rides Tommy's horses, but Tommy jumps the fences and he climbs down and opens the gates.

Both boys like to wander around together and see funny things. Tommy's current trick is the imitating of neon signs that they see in their walks down town. Tommy's ambition is to become able to imitate the Greyhound Bus sign but he can't tell whether the front legs of the greyhound go between the back ones, or the back ones go between the front ones.

They also like to cook. At present Bill gets breakfast, the landlady cooks lunch, and Tommy cooks supper. Bill is an expert at chili and Tommy is proud of his vegetable salad.

Both boys intend to get Master's degrees after finishing here and both plan to teach.

Though not at first glance considered the studious type, both boys made the honor roll last semester and seem to feel hopeful for next time.

Nelda Lambert and Julia Smith spent the weekend in Providence.

Mrs. Beatrice Powell, student on the Hill last semester, spent last week-end at Potter hall. While here she attended the Community Concert performance of the Columbus Boychoir. Mrs. Powell is in charge of the school library at Russell Springs.

JOAN OF LORRAINE, the tap-dancing, wisecracking showman in IDIOT'S DELIGHT, the simple ballad-maker in MISSOURI LEGEND, and assistant director of THE CONTRAST. He will be Clarence Day, Jr. in LIFE WITH FATHER.

Bill's histrionic contributions consist of speaking a two-line part in DEAR RUTH, and being the man behind the scenes in most of the others. The beautiful poplar trees in THE CONTRAST exhibited some of his latest work.

Bill likes fishing and interior decorating as his hobbies. Tommy adds

Hilltoppers Lose In NIT To Mighty Bradley Five

The Western Hilltoppers, seeded fourth in the National Invitational tournament, went down to defeat before the mighty Bradley of Peoria, Illinois, 95-86. The upset occurred after the Toppers had run up a 10 point lead in the second half. But Western was not the only team surprised, the first four teams seeded in the tournament were eliminated, and all on the same day. Utah, St. Louis, and even the famous Kentucky Wildcats struck out. San Francisco won the tournament of upsets.

Gene Melchiorre and Paul Unruh proved to be the stumbling blocks that tripped up the Red and Gray in the terrific game that broke all collegiate scoring records for Madison Square garden. The Bradley Braves performed flawlessly on offense the last 20 minutes and the Diddlemen forgot defense. Both Johnny Oldham and Bob Lavy had four personals well before intermission, which found foul-riddled Western leading 50-45. Western never trailed until after midway in the second half, although they rarely led more than 5 points. Bradley came from behind when the score was 60-50 to go ahead 69-68 on Unruh's freethrow. The Toppers spurted ahead when Givens hit a 35-footer and Oldham tipped the net from the circle. Unruh then connected a 17-foot one-hander and cut Western's lead to 72-71. Grover laid one in that put the Braves ahead. With 14 minutes gone, Givens sighted for two free throws to hand the Toppers a 77-75 edge. Seconds later Lavy hooked from the line and the score read 79-77, which was the Hilltoppers' last advantage. Just as they had begun it, Melchiorre and Unruh finished it by counting a couple of quick baskets each on soaring drive-ins or fast-break trips.

Although they were at a considerable height disadvantage, the Braves more than held their own the final half as Lavy and Oldham dared not mix it up under the goals for fear of fouling out. Lavy finally did foul out with a couple of minutes to go.

Bradley shot a 46 per cent for the wild game. The Peorians hit 18 of 46 the half and 23 of 44 the second. Western racked 36 per cent: 20 of 51 the initial half and 13 of 41 the final 20 minutes.

Lavy got 21 points and played outstanding ball despite the fouls on him. Oldham and Cate both tabbed 19 and played well enough to make any Westerner proud of them. Givens got 16 and played a great floor game.

Although this isn't the way the Toppers wanted to end their season, they can feel proud of these reasons:

Their 86 points is an all-time Western Garden record.

In the 29 games, of which they won 25, they scored 2,028 points for an average of 70 per game, highest average in Hilltop history.

Oldham ran his career total to 996, the second greatest ever recorded by a Hilltopper, 14 points short of the Western record of 1,010 set by Carlyle Towery in 1938-41.

On the other hand, the team all so set a record in referee. Bradley's 96 points is an all-time record for a Western foe.

So in this manner Western and Kentucky, which had looked forward to their first meeting in history in Thursday night's semi-finals, wound up.

Dr. Towery Gets Research Grant

Dr. Beverly Todd Towery, BS'36, son of Mrs. Myrtle Todd Towery of Bowling Green, has been awarded a $25,000 grant for five years on the teaching and research staff of Vanderbilt university hospital, according to the Nashville BANNER.

Dr. Towery, whose field is that of internal medicine and endocrinology, was Founder Medalist in his graduating class at Vanderbilt school of medicine. He served during the war in North Africa and Italy with Vanderbilt's 300th General hospital unit. The former Western student has been at Massachusetts General hospital in Boston and for two years at Harvard school of medicine as a research fellow.

Dr. Towery has also been chosen as one of thirteen medical scientists to share $325,000 from the John and Mary R. Markle foundation.

Dr. Smith Speaks On Federal Aid

"Federal Aid to Education" was the subject of an address by Dr. Bert R. Smith, of the education department, over WKCT on Tuesday, March 15. The occasion was the meeting of the North Warren Parent-Teachers Association.

Dr. Smith stated, "It takes intelligence to live in a democracy. Our civilization, our religion, our government and industry all depend on education." "This," he said, "calls for equalized educational opportunity among the states through properly controlled Federal Aid."

The speaker also stated that "two bills have been offered by the House and Senate calling for three to five billion dollars for federal aid to education. Under present plans Kentucky's share would amount to from eleven to fourteen million dollars per year."

Dr. Smith suggested that all P. T. A. members in Warren and adjoining counties write Senators Virgil Chapman and G. L. Withers and Congressman John Whitaker to request them to support the "Bills on Federal Aid to Education."

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Loudermilk of Oak Ridge, Tennessee were the week-end guests of Mr. Loudermilk's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Loudermilk. Mr. Loudermilk is working on his PhD at the University of Tennessee, Knoxville.

Western Golfers Predicted To Be Best Fielded By Hilltop In Several Years

By Bob Tincher

"By the end of this season our boys will have made Western one of the most respected golf teams in collegiate circles," predicted Frank Griffin, mentor of the Topper niblickers yesterday as his men posted the results of their final practice rounds before entering serious competition. The veteran golfers of Western battle the Vanderbilt Commodores this afternoon in the season's inaugural event at the Bowling Green country club.

To the uninformed novice this statement made by Coach Griffin may seem exaggerated but to the golf enthusiast who has seen this Red and Grey aggregation in action on previous occasions there is no semblance of skepticism. If posterity is judged on the imprints made in the record books by the clubs of the Western linksmen then Norman Head, Owen Chapman, Jim Wright, John Blane and John Rountree are destined to become one of the most potent fairway crews ever to wear the Red and Grey name. Individually these Topper blades are excellent performers, but collectively they have proved themselves to be even better.

Norman Head is a Louisvilleian and received the greater part of his golfing knowledge from Ray Ottman and Joe Lally, two of the most capable golf professionals in the state. Head attended Male high where he led the Bulldog linksters to the state championship. Since coming to the Hilltop he has grabbed more fairway laurels than any other single member of the team. "Norm" is a skillful golfer with every stick in the bag. He is a competitor of the highest degree and a gambler when victory is in sight. His swing is one of confidence and his putting is that of a champion. He won the Bowling Green City tourney last season and also jointly shares, with teammate Owen Chapman, the competitive course record for Municipal park.

Owen Chapman is the longest hitter on the club. His wrists are laden with power that is unleashed with the impact of the clubhead on the ball and sends it screaming down the fairway 260 yards closer to the pin. He swings with such nonchalance that it seems to belie the energy utilized in hitting the pill. Owen comes from the fair city of Russellville and while his golfing exploits have been stymied somewhat in his home town he takes up the slack by using his periodical trips to Florida to sharpen up his game. His most sparkling performance was turned in during the opening round of the '47 KIAC Tournament when he blazed around the Municipal Park course in 30 strokes, 6 under par and spearheaded his teammates to the state collegiate team trophy.

Jim Wright is a lanky, dapper performer who makes his home in Nashville, Tennessee. He is an excellent all-around golfer but he is just short of a master with the short irons and those hard-to-make 25 foot putts. Although Jim is a rabid battler, it hurts him considerably to miss a much needed shot and with this in mind he fights all the harder in an attempt to perfect his game. He is a keen-witted fellow with a flair of smiles for good humor. He will spend half his time in the clubhouse razzing his opponents and spend the remainder of his time trying to beat their brains out on the course. Jim's latest accomplishment with his sharp blades was snatching medalist honors in the '48 Municipal park tournament last season.

John Blane comes from Hopkinsville and is generally regarded as one of the better niblicker prospects to emerge from that section of the state in many a year. His brother, Andy Blane, gained great recognition while playing with Centre college and winning the 1947 KIAC individual crown. John has been at Western only 2 years and last year, his initial year with the team, turned in some remarkable performances. His drives are not long but they are exceedingly well controlled and his putting abilities have thrown his opponents in mere masses of raging humanity when they can't keep up with his fast pace.

John Rountree supplies the local color on the team as he is a Bowling Green lad. He is an experienced competitor and a valuable man under pressure. John has fine wood play as well as iron play. He is the youngest man on the team and owing to this fact the golf aspirants at Western can be expecting to hear more and more from him as the going gets increasingly tougher and hotter not only this year but in the next three ensuing years.

Individually these men have coped honors from all over the state and have consistently gained places in the golfing spotlight. Collectively they have compiled one of the most enviable records ever established by a Western team. In 1947 the Hilltoppers won the KIAC team tournament. Last year they were the runner-up in this same annual battle. Their most noticeable achievement of last year however was the winning of the Irvin Cobb invitational tournament at Paducah. This is recognized as the most coveted team trophy in the state. Great things are expected of the Topper niblickers this year, but they have the men who are capable of accomplishing great things in the stout realms of college golf.

Coach Clayton Releases Grid Schedule For Fall

Coach Jack Clayton's Western Kentucky State College Hilltoppers will open the 1949 football season against the University of Louisville at Bowling Green in an Ohio Valley Conference clash on Sept. 24, according to the schedule released by Coach Clayton.

The schedule lists eight games with two open dates. The Hilltoppers will open the season with three consecutive games at home before playing an engagement on the road. Last year Western played three games away from home as the season opened before returning to the Western Stadium, winning five games and dropping four over the nine game schedule.

The Hilltoppers will play five Ohio Valley Conference teams. Delta State is the only newcomer to the schedule and will be meet the Toppers on Nov. 5 in what has been tentatively set as the annual Homecoming game. The two schools have never met on the gridiron before.

The open dates are October 2 and November 24, and Coach Clayton said he hoped to schedule games for both dates.

The 1949 season will mark Coach Clayton's second at Western as head coach. The schedule is as follows:

ITALIAN DEPUTY

continue to be, willing to work together with all peace loving nations of the world."

The Italian Deputy expressed his opinion that much of Italy's recent growth has been the result of her strong political system. Seven deep-seated political parties express the will of the people. These seven parties were inactivated in 1926 when headlines screamed, "All Political Parties but Fascists Are Declared Illegal." When Italy was finally liberated in April, 1945, all seven parties sprang up again with remarkable vigor.

Of the re-emergence of political parties he said: "If this number of parties can survive 20 years underground, then all reappear at one time, that means that there are deep reasons for our strong traditional political setup."

Dr. Treves stated that his own party, the Independent Socialists, are considered enemy number one by the Communists and are listed by the Kremlin as the first persons to be shot if the Communists were ever to gain power of Italy. This party, along with the Christian Democrats and two minor groups, the Liberals and the Republicans, make up the coalition cabinet.

The Deputy, who is also a leader-writer and an Italian newspaper columnist, praised the Marshall Plan. Its aid helped keep Italy from poverty—the condition that breeds Communism. He named two important factors that swung post-war Italy to the right rather than to Communism: common sense on the part of the Italians and recovery brought on by the Marshall Plan.

WKCT listeners who tuned in the Treves address heard an experienced radio commentator. From 1940 to 1944 he was chief Italian commentator. From 1940 to 1944 he was chief Italian commentator and deputy program organizer of Italian broadcasts from London. In 1945 he was in charge of the Italian broadcasting system. From Paris he was a regular broadcaster in the Italian program of the OWI Voice of America.

Dr. Treves further discussed Italian life and problems with a group of students and faculty members at four o'clock on the afternoon of March 18.

bands. In America she married an "own choice" husband, Eitaro Ishigaki, a noted artist. She spoke further of this:

"Japan is progressing in science and industry, but the status of women needs to be improved. Japanese custom has it that, once a girl is married, she becomes a virtual slave of her husband. The recent tendency away from this is handicapped by the deep-rooted desire of the Japanese male to be master."

day evening program will be Dennis Lilly, local baritone, who will be heard in two operatic arias. Mr. Lilly is receiving this recognition by virtue of his having ranked high in competition for young talent from over the entire state. He is a junior in the music department and has been heard in solo parts in college musical productions during his years at Western.

The youth concert in the afternoon will be a continuation of the same type of program given by Mr. Whitney and the orchestra before large audiences of young students in Louisville for the past several years. Mr. Whitney will give informal comments about the music on the program and about the various instruments of the orchestra. Those who attended the program for students last year were impressed with the effectiveness of such a presentation. The afternoon program will feature such famous and well-liked compositions as "March of the Boyard" by Halvorsen; "Toy Symphony" by Haydn; "Blue Danube Waltzes" by Strauss; and "The Topsy Dance" and "March of the Toreadors" from CARMEN by Bizet.

The evening program is as follows: Overture, "The Marriage of Figaro," Mozart; Symphony No. 5 in C minor, Beethoven; Aria, "Di Provenza" from LA TRAVIATA, Verdi; Prologue "I Pagliacci," Leoncavallo (Dennis Lilly, baritone); "Emperor Waltz, Strauss; and "Finlandia," tone poem, Sibelius.

Miss Lillian Choncoff, AB'48, is recuperating in a Phoenix, Arizona, hospital from severe burns she suffered when lighting a leaking gas stove.
